Health Office

The flu season is upon us. Keep your kids safe. The following is a guide from NYS Department of Health: Children and Infants are at greater risk for getting seriously ill from the flu. The NYS Department of Health recommends that all children 6 months and older get the flu vaccine.

Most people with the flu are sick for about a week, and feel better. But some people, especially young children, pregnant women, elderly people, and people with chronic health problems, can get very sick. An annual vaccine is the best way to protect your child from the flu. The vaccine is recommended for everyone 6 months and older, yearly. Children younger than 9 years old who get the vaccine for the first time will need two doses.

The flu is an infection of the nose, throat, and lungs. It can spread from person to person. It spreads by droplets from an infected person. Other people can get the flu by breathing these droplets in or getting the droplets in their nose & mouth. The flu comes on suddenly. Most people with the flu feel very tired, have high fever, headache, dry cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, and sore muscles. Some people may also have stomach upset.

To help prevent the flu, always wash your hands with soap and water or use hand sanitizer. Make sure you get plenty of rest and drink lots of fluids. If your child(ren) have the flu they should stay home to rest. If they have a fever they should not come to school until they have been fever free for 24 hours.
